At REAch2, our actions and our intentions as school leaders are guided by our Touchstones:

- Integrity We recognise that we lead by example and if we want children to grow up to behave appropriately and with integrity then we must model this behaviour.
- Responsibility We act judiciously with sensitivity and care. We don't make excuses, but mindfully answer for actions and continually seek to make improvements.
- Inclusion We acknowledge and celebrate that all people are different and can play a role in the REAch2 family whatever their background or learning style.
- Enjoyment Providing learning that is relevant, motivating and engaging releases a child's curiosity and fun, so that a task can be tackled and their goals achieved.
- Inspiration Inspiration breathes life into our schools. Introducing children to influential experiences of people and place, motivates them to live their lives to the full.
- Learning Children and adults will flourish in their learning and through learning discover a future that is worth pursuing.
- Leadership REAch2 aspires for high quality leadership by seeking out talent, developing potential and spotting the possible in people as well as the actual.

1. Overarching Principles

In REAch2, both as an overall Trust and as individual academies, we are committed to at least meeting and, in many respects, going beyond the minimum requirements in equality legislation. Many of our schools serve diverse and/or disadvantaged communities; and, as a Trust, we have chosen to be primary-only because we know how important the earliest years of learning and engagement are for our pupils. All this reflects our fundamental belief that education must increase equality of life chances, as captured in our Touchstones of inclusion, enjoyment, inspiration and learning shown above.

We believe in equality for all, not just those sharing characteristics that are 'protected' within the law (see under Definitions section below). Just as important for us is, for example, equality for those from socially and/or economically disadvantaged backgrounds, or with English as an additional language.

We see positive action for equality as providing tangible benefits for all the stakeholders in and around our schools, particularly pupils, staff and parents/carers (see section on Intended Impact below).

In our experience, action for equality works best where it's an integrated part of planning and delivery, not just some kind of 'bolt on'. At school level, therefore, equality objectives are likely to mirror or draw directly on key aspects of the Self-Evaluation Summary, the School Development Plan, Pupil Premium action plans and work to realise Visual Learning (see under Definitions section below). Within the Trust's central/regional teams, it's about integrating equality considerations into how we do things, day in and day out.

Key information, including about specific equalities objectives, will be published on the REAch2 website and/or every academy's website and will be made available in other formats on request.

2. Intended Impact

For pupils, we expect action on equalities as set out in this framework to deliver improving outcomes for all children, with accelerated improvements for pupils in vulnerable groups and/or sharing 'protected characteristics'.

We also expect pupils to benefit from equality being a key driver in our learning provision much more widely, developing the 'whole child' over time including through curriculum innovation and enrichment activities such as REAch2's 11 before 11.

For staff, we believe that positive action for equality makes its own business case, by helping to ensure our organisation taps into all the skills and talent available. We expect action on equalities as set out in this framework and reflected in our Human Resources (HR) policies and practices to mean that:

- We promote equality of opportunity and diversity across our workforce;
- Our workforce is increasingly representative of the communities we serve;
- We recognise and value the differences and individual contribution people make;
- We work in an environment free from discrimination, bullying and harassment;
- We provide support and encouragement to staff to develop their careers and increase their contributions to the organisation through the enhancement of their skills and abilities.

We expect parents/carers to benefit from their children's outcomes and development but also more broadly through them and their children being part of an inclusive community. We would not expect to be able to gauge this impact in measurable terms.

3. Roles and Responsibilities

REAch2 schools will ensure they go beyond minimum legal requirements by developing and implementing equalities action in line with the key principles in this framework.

REAch2 central staff will support our academies in delivering on this expectation, while also embedding equalities in the work of central and regional teams.

REAch2 non-executives will support and challenge us at every level, particularly local governors in relation to individual schools, to be ambitious, committed and effective in relation to our equalities actions.

4. National Guidance and Requirements

Under the Equality Act 2010, schools are subject to the requirements placed on public bodies in England. This means we must:

- Have regard to the three aims of the general equality duty:
 1. Eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation.
 2. Advance equality of opportunity between people with/without protected characteristics (see list in the Definitions section below)
 3. Foster good relations between people with/without those characteristics.
- Carry out specific duties:
 4. Publish information annually about protected characteristics in relation to employees and those affected by our policies and practices.
 5. Set and review at least one specific, measurable equality objective at least every four years.

It is recommended that the specific duties are reflected in a separate document for ease of demonstrating compliance, but there is no requirement for the equality objectives in substance to be separate from, or additional to, our wider planning and delivery. Indeed, as set out in our principles we believe integrating equalities into our core school improvement and continuous professional development processes is the best way to advance equality effectively.

More information is made available by the Equality and Human Rights Commission, including in this comprehensive guidance:

5. Key Definitions

“Protected characteristics” under the Equality Act 2010, these are age; being or becoming a transsexual person; being married or in a civil partnership (note only the first equality aim above applies in legislation here); being pregnant or on maternity leave; disability; race including colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin; religion, belief or lack of religion/belief; sex/gender; and sexual orientation.

“Visual Learning” – Prof John Hattie’s ‘Visible Learning: A Synthesis of over 800 Meta-analyses in Education’ (2009) is based on over 15 years’ research into what really makes a difference to student achievement and learning. For more information, see <https://visible-learning.org/>. This is the key framework for school improvement in REAch2 schools 2017-2020, working directly with Prof Hattie and Osiris (the only licensed UK facilitator) on the largest ever collaborative VL programme. In essence, VL asks every school leadership team to identify what has the biggest impact in their school, quantify that impact and develop ways – if possible – to ‘scale it up’. A school’s VL plans may well include action that directly promotes equality. More widely, the focus on impact and the whole school make the VL methodology useful and relevant to how we plan and deliver on equality.

6. Principles and Implementation

As a Trust, we will publish an annual update on the REAch2 website. This update will include:

- Pupil Information: Trust level data about the composition of our pupil population and their outcomes, in relation to gender, Special Educational Needs (SEN) and disability, race/ethnicity and those with English as an Additional Language (EAL), Children who are/have been Looked After (CLA) and pupils who are eligible for Free School Meals (FSM), or who more broadly qualify for the Pupil Premium. We will include national averages wherever possible as comparators. Other protected characteristics are either not relevant to primary pupils or data is only available at school level where publishing that data would risk compromising individuals’ personal information.
- Workforce information: Trust level information about the composition of our workforce in relation to gender, age, disability and race/ethnicity. Currently, we are not able to publish information in relation to other protected characteristics as we do not have reliable data at Trust level and publishing information at school level would risk compromising individuals’ personal information. We will also publish information on gender and pay.

Our school will set its own objectives (all of them specific and measurable), wherever possible directly drawing on aspects of our Self-Evaluation Summary, School Development Plan, Visual Learning plans and/or Pupil Premium action plans/statements.

The Head Teacher and Senior Leadership Teams will discuss proposed objectives with the Local Governing Body who should approve the final objectives and be directly involved in reviewing progress against them at least annually.

Ideally, the objectives themselves should not be changed every year, in order to assess/demonstrate progress over time, though changes can of course be made where new school improvement or wider priorities emerge, including where these are identified by a new Head Teacher and/or Chair of Governors.

In most circumstances, there will be at least three objectives set:

- One focused on pupil outcomes and relating to an issue/characteristic affecting a disproportionately large share of their pupils compared to the national average; this will help to ensure that schools take action which will have an impact on a significant scale.
- One objective focused on outcomes and relating to an issue/characteristic significantly affecting a small share of pupils compared to the national average. Research nationally suggests some of the largest and most stubborn 'gaps' in outcomes are in schools with very small numbers of children with that particular characteristic – such pupils should not be overlooked.
- One objective relating to actions with a wider scope/impact, perhaps in relation to curriculum content, enrichment activities, developing the 'whole child', whole school values and behaviours, work with parents/carers and the wider community or a workforce issue; this will ensure equality is not seen exclusively in relation to pupil outcome measures.

A Trust-wide equivalent set of objectives were developed to align with the 5-year strategy.

The Trust will ensure that equality and inclusion are fully factored into the new arrangements for induction of new REAch2 staff, whether based in school or in our regional or central teams, with a focus on prompting every individual to think through how their role, no matter what it is, tangibly impacts on equality of opportunity for our pupils, staff, parents/carers or wider communities.

Other actions include:

- We use templates for Trust Board papers that should help to ensure our policies, decisions and their implementation identify and take account of any significant equalities considerations.
- From school/performance we will encourage/expect all central and regional staff to have a specific, measurable equalities-related item as part of their personal performance objectives/appraisals or to have factored equalities into their objectives in some way. We are not at this stage replicating this for staff based in school because the great majority of staff interacting with/supporting pupils and/or parents/carers will already have such provisions in their objectives.
- We will include specific equality-related analysis/commentary in our Trust level reviews of the REAch2 Visible Learning programme 2017-2020.

7. Communications / Transparency

Information compiled for the above and the objectives maintained for section B above will be published on the REAch2 and/or individual school websites and will also be made available in hard copy on request (to the REAch2 or school office). Schools may wish to consider also making this information available in relevant community languages and/or via on-line translation services.
