

FRIDAY FLYER

2 December 2022

Next Week

Moment of the Week:

Silver Studded Blues enjoyed a visit from King Henry VIII. They learnt about many aspects of Tudor life, with a lot of laughter at how grumpy Henry could be! They took part in foot wrestling and a jousting tournament. The children's enthusiasm and engagement was wonderful to see.

Messages from Staff:

Butterfly Book (Learning Powers)

Hiroki	Small Blues	Being responsible for his learning.
Reggie	Holly Blues	Showing aspiration in his work.

Litter Pick

Thank you to Eco Council who put on their jackets and gloves on a cold and damp November day to collect litter along Black Tiles Lane. It is very important to them to make a positive contribution to the local community and keep areas litter free.

Panto

We had a wonderful time watching Goldilocks and the Three Bears at the New Walsey Theatre, Ipswich yesterday. The children loved the experience and it was a joy to watch them singing and dancing. Their behaviour was outstanding, and we were so proud.

Fabulous Finishes

Next week parents are invited into school so the children can share an aspect of their learning this term. Please can we ask that only one family member per child attends due to the space we have available. We look forward to seeing you in school.

Christmas Jumpers

We have had a few Christmas jumpers donated so far. We are still taking donations of any jumpers your child has grown out of. We will have a table in the playground on Wednesday 7 December.

Attendance

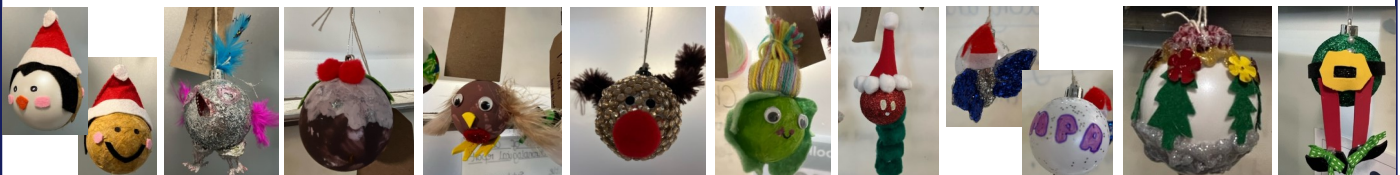

Our attendance is really low at the moment. Just a reminder children can attend school if they have a cold or cough. If they have a sickness or diarrhoea then it is 48 hours.

Staffing Update

We have a number of staff changes for the Spring term. We will write a separate letter, so you have a clear overview of the changes taking place. We are however delighted we will be fully staffed in January.

PTA Bauble Competition

The PTA were delighted to sell 75 baubles for our competition, this is the largest number ever sold. The children's entries are amazing and you can see how much time and effort the children have put into their designs. The winners have received a chocolate Father Christmas, donated by Pump Street, and we are very grateful for their kind support. The winners are:
